

Item 1. Business

Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue. Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue.

Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue. Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue.

Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue. Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue. Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue.

Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue. Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue.

Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue. Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue.

Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis

Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue. Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue.

Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue. Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue.

Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue. Northwind Solar designs and manufactures photovoltaic panels and inverters for residential and commercial rooftops. We sell through independent installers in twelve states and operate two factories in Arizona. Our largest customers are regional installation companies, and no single customer accounted for more than ten percent of revenue.